ART & DESIGN/ILLUSTRATION (ARIL)

ARIL 260 Introduction to Cartoonying (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): WRIT 105 or HONP 100. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. This course is a studio exploration of the single-pane cartoon, humorous illustration, and the editorial cartoon through discussion, examination and experimentation. Dialogues include cartoon formats, concepts, styles, techniques and history. Each major project assignment will receive ongoing one-on-one critiques and will culminate in a group critique or "publication deadline".

ARIL 261 Character Design for Illustrators (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 101 and ARFD 124. Restriction(s): BFA Illustration majors only. This course focuses on designing and developing characters for illustration. Students will explore conceptualizing and sketching characters, humans and anthropomorphized objects and animals, in ink, pencil, and markers. Character persona, context, and emotional development are portrayed in sketch series that include physical details and 360-degree visualizations, of characters at rest and in action. Emphasis is placed on character development through critique and discussion. Text description is also explored.

ARIL 262 Illustration and Motion (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 101. Restriction(s): BFA Illustration majors only. Students learn and apply production techniques for real-world presentation of moving two-dimensional images to create story through collage and motion manipulations. Topics include timing, hand-drawn effects, bitmap and vector brushes, and multi-plane composition.

ARIL 264 Digital Illustration (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 225. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. Course dedicated to the fast-paced world of magazine and newspaper illustration, with a heavy focus on concepts and how to interpret a story, but also including some new developments such as simple animations for online and mobile editions.

ARIL 300 Intermediate Digital Painting Methods (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 200. Restriction(s): BFA Illustration majors only. This course continues the exploration of application of digital painting software as a painting medium for illustrators. Students formulate digital brushes to refine the art of illustration. Projects blend digital technology with traditional theory, forming an advanced specialty technique. Particular focus on the nuances of color, expression, and environment will build the student's professional creativity.

ARIL 301 Industry Preparation (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 202. Professional experience during a college career is a significant necessity and initiation to the industry. This course supervises students throughout the individual portfolio and website development. Students learn how to form a proper resume and drafting a suitable cover letter for explicit job opportunities. Lessons and projects include an online profile set-up and resume upload to networking sites, and methods of research and application to internships. Students learn professional practices, etiquette, and are required to attend networking events. Projects involve preceding classwork crafted to a professional level as well as projects specific to internship trends. Students learn professional practices, etiquette, and are required to attend networking events. Projects involve preceding classwork crafted to a professional level as well as projects specific to internship trends. Upon the conclusion of the course, students will apply to a minimum of fifteen internships. Offered as ARIL 301 through Winter 2023. To become ANIM 401 effective Spring 2023.

ARIL 302 Intermediate 3D Modeling (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 202. This course resumes the exploration of advanced techniques in 3D sculpting and topology for animation, dynamics, and 3D printing. Students develop their practice building and sculpting 3D models through an in-depth analysis of character design and anatomy as well as hard-surfaced modeling. Offered as ARIL 302 through Winter 2023. To become ANIM 302 effective Spring 2023.

ARIL 311 Illustration Studio: Cartooning (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 261. Restriction(s): BFA Illustration majors. Students will create cartoons from the refinement and isolation of a concept from a prompt to publication-ready content. This studio exploration of the single-panel cartoon, the editorial cartoon, and humorous illustration uses discussion, examination, analysis, and experimentation to achieve expressive cartoons. Cartoon formats, concepts, styles, and techniques are explored using historical and contemporary examples. Critiques and discussion provide an audience whose reactions are incorporated by the student presenter as learning tools toward humorist execution. Assignments are treated as part of a publication process that functions on firm deadlines for delivery, revision, and final artwork.
ARIL 312 Products and Zines (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 300, ARIL 225 or ARIL 262. Restriction(s): Animation and illustration majors only. In this course, students will create multiple projects associated with the illustration festival conventions. Throughout the class, students produce a group zine, an individual graphic book, and three packaged merchandises for selling to the public at a festival. This class challenges students in areas such as package design, visual layout, and creating commodities that will retail at conventions such as MoCCA Fest NYC.

ARIL 315 Illustration Studio: Concepts (4 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 200. Restriction(s): Illustration majors only. Students develop visual ideas for illustration by uniting conceptual thinking (telling a story, using historical concepts), critical thinking (verbal/visual vocabulary, writing), creative thinking (problem-solving), and strong technical and communication skills. The student will originate and carry an idea through stages from ideation to elaboration and refinement. Projects use digital and traditional media. Through writing about their processes and research, students will explore their illustrative style discursively. Equivalent course ARIL 215 effective through Fall 2020.

ARIL 318 Animation Production (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 262. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. Students learn how to organize and plan an animation project, add sound and finish their final product. All the steps from concept to final product are covered: Storyboarding, Animate, Sound, Post-production. While students will make use of computer technology for the practical side of this course, the main focus is on the professional animation process: workflow, planning and best practices.

ARIL 322 Animation for the Internet and Mobile Media (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 262. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. This course focuses on the requirements for animations that are to be viewed on the Internet and mobile media, which differ from the more traditional animation platforms like television and the big screen. Current trends will be surveyed. Ways to translate static illustration into a moving Internet/Mobile media experience are investigated, both conceptually and technically. Students will create work that is appropriate for chosen media.

ARIL 323 Text and Image (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 264. Restriction(s): BFA Illustration majors only. This course examines and develops skills to effectively use digital fonts and hand drawn letter and number symbols in illustration. Projects teach the proper use of typography to aesthetically enhance expression and/or communicate specific meanings. Type is a crucial aspect of illustration craft and students will engage pragmatic concerns associated with selecting, combining, and creating lettering for illustration.

ARIL 335 Animated Illustration (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 262. Technology enables illustrators to incorporate movement, animation, sound, music, and multimedia effects. Publications generate a distinct product by employing editorial illustrators to describe and represent an anecdote visually. Through various projects, this course covers the benefits of added mobility in illustration. Offered as ARIL 335 through Winter 2023. To become ANIM 335 effective Spring 2023.

ARIL 349 Concept Design for Gaming (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 225. Concept illustrators consider characters in worlds, diverse environments, and articles discovered in gaming. Illustrators blend problem-solving tactics with the capacity of digital tools, anatomy, perspective, color, and visual storytelling to develop innovative theories. Students practice an array of methods to produce a body of work that exhibits technical skill and aptitude for successful visual narrative. Offered as ARIL 349 through Winter 2023. To become ANIM 349 effective Spring 2023.

ARIL 350 Professional Business Practice for Illustration (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 225, ARIL 300 and ARIL 311. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. Illustrators need to be prepared for the business aspect of the freelance market. Students will gain an understanding of information in regards to executing an assignment successfully and efficiently. This class practices interpersonal skills and goes through every phase, from understanding legal contracts that are essential to a business transaction to negotiating rates.

ARIL 361 Animation: Broadcast Graphics (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ANIM 321. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. An overview of the working aspects of broadcast animation. Focus is on computer graphics as it has integrated into the broadcast industry. Students create animation sequences for news, industrial, educational and informational venues.

ARIL 401 Illustration Studio: Editorial (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 310 and ARIL 311. Restriction(s): BFA Illustration majors only. Editorial is a fast-paced society of magazine and newspaper illustration related to written text and commentary cartoons. This course concentrates on the conceptual importance and practices of story and text analysis to develop unique visual ideas that communicate the text’s concepts. Students will develop skills for rapid iteration of such ideas from text analysis, and viable illustration techniques for reproduction in print and online media. Projects are based upon unfolding newsworthy events and ‘magazine’ pieces.

ARIL 422 Final Project I (4 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 311, ARIL 325 and ARIL 360. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. This course is part one of two for senior thesis. Students map out ideas, collaborate and may work in teams to produce a high quality representation of their capabilities. At the end of the semester, students present their ideas for project approval.

ARIL 423 Animation/Illustration Thesis II (4 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 422. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. Part two of the senior thesis is completed during the last semester before graduation. Students work to finish their thesis with ongoing dialogue through one on one and group critiques. Successful projects are exhibited in the George Segal Gallery with opening night after the commencement ceremony. Offered as ARIL 423 through Winter 2023. To become ANIM 423 effective Spring 2023.

ARIL 430 Advanced Illustration (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 225 and ARIL 230 and ARIL 315. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. Senior level illustration course to further refine students’ technique, concepts, style and voice as illustrators, and to build portfolio quality work.

ARIL 440 Portfolio for Illustrators (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 225. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. Corequisite(s): ARIL 430. Senior level illustration course to further refine students’ technique, concepts, style and voice as illustrators, and to build portfolio quality work.
ARIL 460 Advanced Animation II: Interactive Media/Gaming (3 credits)
Prerequisite(s): ARIL 202. Restriction(s): BFA Animation / Illustration majors only. Students create low polygon characters and scenes for use in game prototypes. Stand-alone game prototypes demonstrate basic game design principles through scripting and storyboarding.
