SPANISH (M.A.)

The MA program in Spanish offers students a wide array of courses in Spanish and Spanish American literature as well as in advanced studies of the Spanish language and literary theory. The program prepares students for careers in research and teaching and provides a cultural and linguistic base from which students can explore career options in interpreting, translating, diplomatic service, editorial work, social services, commerce and business. The Master of Arts degree also opens opportunities for students to pursue doctoral programs at major institutions.

Admissions

The Master of Arts program in Spanish is open to students who hold a bachelor’s degree with an undergraduate major in Spanish or who have completed 24 credits of Spanish on the undergraduate level or the equivalent.

Students who hold a bachelor’s degree or its equivalent may enroll in graduate courses without obligation to follow a master’s degree program, if they have 24 semester hours or the equivalent in Spanish.
